Cohn Resigns As Chief Helper To McCarthy

WASHINGTON (AP)—Roy M. Cohn resigned today as chief counsel of the McCarthy investigations subcommittee, and Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.), shifted assistant counsel Donald A. Surine to his own staff pending official word on why Surine has been denied clearance to handle U. S. defense secrets.

Under pressure from a majority of his subcommittee for a staff "housecleaning," McCarthy announced the Cohn resignation and Surine shift shortly before a closed door meeting called for a showdown on the issue of a shakeup.

McCarthy made public a letter in which Cohn said he was resigning because "there appears to be a lack of unanimity among the members of the investigations subcommittee upon the question of continuing my services as chief counsel."

Actually, the committee was reported to be lined up 4-3 in favor of firing Cohn.

Before McCarthy's announcement, there had been widely published reports that Cohn was resigning. One Chicago newspaper quoted Cohn as saying:

"I feel that my helpfulness to the subcommittee has been brought to the vanishing point. In any future investigation in which I appeared as chief counsel, all the slanders voiced against me would be repeated to minimize the evidence presented."

Cohn's resignation letter was dated yesterday. McCarthy's prepared statement of comment on it bore today's date.

While McCarthy did not state specifically that he was accepting the resignation, he spoke of the young lawyer's withdrawal as an accomplished fact. He asserted:

"The resignation of Roy Cohn must bring great satisfaction to the Communists and fellow travelers. The smears and pressures to which he has been subjected make it clear that an effective anti-Communist cannot long survive on the Washington scene."

Cohn had been chief counsel of the McCarthy subcommittee since early in 1953. His pay was $11,700 a year but he testified during the McCarthy-Army hearings that he received a larger income from a New York law firm with which he retained a partnership.

The 27-year-old Cohn first became a familiar national figure during televised hearings of McCarthy's investigations in which as special subcommittee counsel he did much of the quizzing.

His name became a household word when he appeared as a principal in the Army-McCarthy hearings, in which he was both a witness and a questioner.

During the 36 days of televised hearings, he was constantly at McCarthy's side steadily whispering into the senator's ear.

The sole registered Democrat to command McCarthy's ear in Washington with regularity, Cohn is the only child of Albert Cohn, former Bronx politician and now a New York appellate court judge in Manhattan.

But he has been the No. 1 target of Sen. Potter (R-Mich.) and the three subcommittee Democrats.

Senate Drones On In Debate Of AEC Bill

Amendment To Allow Sale Of TVA Power Brings Long Speeches

WASHINGTON (AP)—The debate-weary Senate met two hours ahead of schedule again today with little apparent hope for a quick vote on atomic energy legislation which has blocked almost all other action since last Tuesday.

Foes of an amendment which would spell out authority of the Atomic Energy Commission to sign a private power contract for the Tennessee Valley held the floor when the Senate finally quit last night after 13½ hours of debate.

Pressing for action, Republican Leader Knowland of California last night charged a group of Democrats with trying to talk the bill to death.

Knowland said he intends to keep the Senate in session at least 12 hours a day until action on the bill is completed. He said it will not be laid aside for other legislation, but added the entire legislative program is threatened by an "obvious filibuster."

DEMOCRATIC Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas said chances appeared slim that the Senate would be able to adjourn by the July 31 target set by Knowland and other GOP strategists.

Sen. Gore (D-Tenn.), a leader in the fight against the proposed AEC power contract, had been speaking for more than seven hours when Knowland made his filibuster charge. Gore denied any such attempt but said the bill merited full debate.

The 104-page measure would revise the entire atomic energy law, giving the President greater power to exchange information with foreign governments and permitting private development of electric energy from atomic materials.

Most of the argument has centered around the proposal for

Judge Rules Court Too Hot To Work

ST. LOUIS (AP)—It was 110 degrees on a thermometer outside Circuit Judge Robert J. Kirkwood's office window yesterday and that was too hot for court.

The judge postponed a trial until Sept. 7 "because of matters beyond the control of the court, resulting in the absolute impossibility of the court to hear and determine this matter."

The case involved a dispute over control of a weekly newspaper.

U.S. Prestige Hits New Low In Largest Indochina State

SAIGON, Indochina (AP)—American prestige in Viet Nam largest of the states of Indochina, appears to have hit its lowest ebb since World War II.

Until a few days ago, the United States could still count on the friendship of some elements of the population—anti-Communist Vietnamese in the North and the nationalist government of Roman Catholic leader Ngo Dinh Diem.

But reports from Washington that President Eisenhower's administration now accepts the principle of partition of the country seem to have wiped away much of this good will.

In the closing days of the Geneva Conference and on the verge of a possible cease-fire in the long and exhausting war, the United States stands discredited in the eyes of many elements of the population.

It was to save this population from communism that the United States contributed billions to the Indochina war effort against the Vietminh and substantial civilian and now being directed to help the hapless refugees of evacuated areas in the North.

SEVEN PERSONS died in this three-car crash at Mount Holly, N. J., when a sleepy driver slammed head-on into an auto containing six persons and a third car banged into the wreckage. Driving alone, Warrant Officer Harold S. Moran, 37, of Amundale, Staten Island, N. Y., had been stopped by firemen fifteen minutes before the fatal accident because he was driving an erratic course and almost hit a fire truck. He was warned to pull off the road and get some sleep before driving further, but disregarded the advice. Among the six persons killed in the second car, which was returning from a religious festival, was a sixteen-year-old expectant mother. Three persons in the third car were injured.

County Completes Bypass Sanction

Pickaway County Prosecutor William Ammer announced Tuesday that action of the county commissioners, giving county approval for the Route 23 bypass, has been completed.

It gives county sanction to the city's proposal to withdraw a western section of the corporate limits, so that the state can build and maintain the new highway between the city and Scioto River. Action by the commissioners apparently clears the last major obstacle from the path of the state plan, the center of controversy here for more than two years.

New Suit Filed In Defiance Church Fuss

DEFIANCE (AP)—Joseph C. Richards filed an action in common pleas court here today asking a writ of prohibition restraining Justice of the Peace G. J. P. Louys from hearing a church parsonage eviction suit docketed in Louys' court Thursday.

A temporary writ was granted. Last week the Rev. Robert B. Weaver, newly assigned pastor of St. Paul's Methodist Church here, filed suit against Richards to gain possession of the church parsonage and garage.

Richards is a former pastor of the church whom the board of trustees made business manager. At the same time the board gave Richards authority to use the parsonage. Richards is a member of the board.

The suits stem originally from a church controversy during which Richards turned in his credentials as a Methodist minister to Ohio Area Bishop Hazen G. Werner. Richards claims he declined another assignment which he said would have meant a $4,000 salary cut.

Judge H. B. Mulholland granted the temporary writ and gave Louys until July 30 to show cause why the writ should not be made permanent. Richards' petition claimed Louys had no jurisdiction in this type of case because a title to real estate was involved.

Judge Mulholland said he would ask Chief Justice Carl V. Weygant of the Ohio Supreme Court to assign another judge to hear the case on the writ of prohibition. The judge is a member of St. Paul's official board which has been backing Richards in the dispute.

Harvester Plans Major Layoff

CHICAGO (AP)—The International Harvester Co. plans to lay off 5,125 employees this month.

A spokesman said yesterday the move stems from a drop in the company's sales of motor trucks and farm implements.

The company said the layoffs would affect employees in plants in 11 cities, but gave no breakdown.

Last-Minute Hitches In Plan Averted

U.S. Standing Aside As East, West Agree On Partition Setup

GENEVA (AP)—East and West, with the United States standing aside, agreed late today to partition Viet Nam roughly along the 17th parallel, a French source said. He reported only technical difficulties remained to be settled before signing of a cease-fire agreement for Indochina.

The partition line, it was said, will run about 12 miles north of the important highway No. 9, leading from Quang Tri on the coastal road to Savannakhet in Laos.

The French source said the issues involving Viet Nam were all settled with fixing of the partition line. Only a few language difficulties remained in provisions concerning Laos and Cambodia.

Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden of Britain and Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov left the meeting where final details of the peace were being completed late in the afternoon for an hour's recess. They were scheduled to return later for another meeting with French Premier Pierre Mendes-France and Pham Van Dong, the Viet Minh foreign minister.

MENDES-FRANCE was reported by French sources to be cautious, but "very optimistic." He has pledged to resign as premier unless a cease fire agreement is reached by midnight (8 p. m. EST).

The two major obstacles to the signing of an armistice appeared surmounted and conference quarters said an agreement before midnight appeared certain.

A highly reliable source, who declined to be identified, said the Communists have agreed the United States would not be listed among

Ike Backing Move To Aid New Airports

WASHINGTON (AP)—With the backing of President Eisenhower, a group of congressmen today lined up in an attempt to persuade the House to put up $22 million for a renewed federal aid to airports program.

The drive was led by Reps. Preston (D-Ga.) and Jenkins (R-Ohio) as the House called for a vote on a $1,195,188,079 catch-all supplemental appropriation bill.

Preston said he would offer an amendment which would restore the money denied by the House Appropriations Committee.

Chairman Taber (R-NY) of that committee said he would oppose the amendment. One of his subcommittee chairmen, Rep. Cleveland (R-Ohio) said he, too, thought the expenditure would be unwise.

The President told congressional leaders at the White House yesterday he wanted the airport program resumed.

Under the plan, the federal government would match money put up by local communities to build qualified airports.

In a House speech yesterday, Jenkins said he was particularly interested in getting federal money to help build an airport near the Atomic Energy Commission plant near Waverly, Ohio.

The Civil Aeronautics Administration, he said, assured him that $400,000 in federal money for this airport will be forthcoming if Congress approves the program.

U.S. Route 23 Bids Opened

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Highway Department today opened bids on another section of U. S. 23 running south from Columbus toward Circleville.

The Fischer Construction Co. of Cincinnati at $2,061,925 was the apparent low bidder for building 12.2 miles of four-lane divided highway in Franklin and Pickaway counties.

The highway department estimate was $2,454,800. It is to be finished by the end of 1955.

Announcement Made Of Where Farmers Vote On Quotas Friday

Voting places in various townships throughout Pickaway County where farmers will decide on 1955 marketing quotas have been announced. The vote will take place Friday from 7 a. m. to 5 p. m. Each township committee will have a list of those eligible to vote.

The vote, in reality, will also effect the parity prices. If two-thirds of the votes approve the quotas, then a parity of from 90 to 75 per cent will be in force. This will apply only to those farmers who comply with their quotas.

If the quotas are not approved, parity will drop to 50 per cent. However, acreage allotments will apply in either case. If more than 10 acres are to be diverted from allotment crops, the farmer must comply with a total allotment if he wishes price supports.

The total allotment provision was not in effect in 1954, according to Pickaway County ASC chairman Ralph May. He reminds farmers that they should give careful consideration to this before planting crops to be harvested in 1955 as this provision may seriously effect them.

SHOULD QUOTAS be in effect, farmers would be penalized for over-planting. This penalty will amount to 45 per cent of the May 1, 1955 parity price on any excess wheat.

To be qualified to vote, May said the farmer must be subject to quotas. This applies to any farm with 15 or more acres of wheat which will be harvested in 1955. The various voting places, by township, are listed below:

Circleville, Washington and Wayne Townships will go to the county ASC office, 159 E. Main St. in Circleville.

Darby Township will go to the election house in Darby.

Deercreek Township will go to the election house in Williamsport.

HARRISON and Madison Townships will go to the Harrison Township election house north of Ashville.

Jackson Township will go to the election house in Fox.

Monroe and Muhlenberg Townships will go to the Monroe election house at Five Points.

Perry Township will go to the Perry Township school house in Atlanta.

Pickaway Township will go to Central High School on the Kings-ton Pike.

SALT CREEK Township will go to the school house on Route 56 near Laurelville.

Scioto Township will go to the township school house at Commercial Point.

Walnut Township will go to the election house across from the school.

Boy's Bleeding Now Believed To Be Slowing

MIDDLETOWN (AP)—It now looks as though 6-year-old Eddie Phillips, who has been bleeding since July 6, might live.

"His condition is still critical but it is no longer desperate," his doctor said last night.

Since the slender, tow-headed son of a Middletown automobile dealer had his tonsils taken out early this month, there has been some trouble in his blood stream. Certain elements have been lacking and his blood has been unable to clot.

In an attempt to save his life, nearly 60 persons have given him their blood. The youngster has received more than 30 pints of whole blood plasma.

Until last night, there seemed little hope for the boy whose home in past weeks has been an oxygen tent and who has breathed through a tube in his throat and taken his meals intravenously.

Then the bleeding became almost negligible. His doctor said: "As far as I can see this has been the best day for the boy in almost a week."

"This is no dramatic turn. But his own body is fighting and is building up the elements necessary to coagulate the blood."

Solicitor Improves

The condition of City Solicitor George Gerhardt continues to improve at Bergher Hospital, where he was taken early last Saturday following a heart attack at his home. The wife of the well known city official, Eleanor Gerhardt, described her husband's condition as "satisfactory" and said he had another good night.

Vaccine Tests Set For Men In Chillicothe

CHILLICOTHE (AP)—Three Maryland microbiologists, hard on the trail of a vaccine for bronchitis, grippe and "bad colds," will begin tests today on inmates of the federal reformatory near here.

Dr. Thomas G. Ward, associate professor of microbiology at the Johns Hopkins School of Hygiene and Public Health, and two associates have isolated strains of virus which they think may cause acute respiratory diseases.

However, Dr. Ward said this should not be confused with the still-elusive common cold virus.

Dr. Ward's associates are Dr. Robert J. Huebner, chief of the virus and rickettsial section of the microbiological institute of the National Institutes of Health at Bethesda, Md., and his assistant, Dr. Wallace P. Rowe.

During the last 11 months, they have carried on tests for acute respiratory diseases among 60 volunteers at the Maryland State Reformatory for males.

By inoculating 250 inmates of the Chillicothe institution, they hope to confirm findings at the Maryland reformatory.

County Man Gets $4,800 Janitor Job

Edward Hamilton, of Washington Township, was given the $4,800 a year custodian job at Walnut Township school, according to an announcement by County Superintendent of Schools George McDowell.

Hamilton has been employed as a fireman for a local greenhouse, McDowell said. He added that Hamilton and his family will move to Walnut Township soon.

Senate On Debate Of AEC Bill

AEC to negotiate a contract for private power to be furnished the Tennessee Valley Authority at Memphis.

President Eisenhower has directed AEC to deal with a combine known as the Dixon-Yates group for 600,000 kilowatts of power to be delivered to TVA.

TVA would continue to deliver a like amount of power to the atomic plant at Paducah, Ky. The proposal is a substitute for TVA's plan to build a steam plant near Memphis with appropriated funds.

Gore and others have contended the proposed contract gives preference to a single group and would cost the government $3,685,000 more annually than would TVA power. They have questioned AEC's authority to enter into such a contract when the power would not be used in an atomic plant.

Woman May Face Charges Following Threats With Gun

Charges were to be filed Tuesday against a 25-year old Williamsport Route 1 woman who allegedly threatened a neighboring family and then a sheriff's deputy with a shotgun Monday night, according to Deputy Carl White.

Mrs. Norma Donaldson is in Berger Hospital recovering from deep lacerations of her right hand as result of the fracas. She broke a window in the house where the occupants were trying to call for help, according to White.

When he arrived on the scene, White said, Mrs. Donaldson pointed the shotgun at him and ordered him to drive off. After turning around, White said he drew his revolver and ordered her to throw down her gun. She did so after a short argument, White said, and he took her into custody. He added she was bleeding freely from the lacerations.

Sheriff Charles Radcliff, who arrived a short time later with Deputy Carl Radcliff, found that the shotgun was not loaded. However, in checking at Mrs. Donaldson's house nearby, he said he found another shotgun on the porch, with a shell in the chamber and the hammer cocked.

Ex-Cabbie Accused In Murder Case

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Police said today that a former Indianapolis cab driver has been identified from pictures as the "Jack O'Shea" in whose hotel room the body of 18-year-old Dorothy Poore was found Sunday, crammed in a drawer.

They said identification was made by a taxi driver and two elevator operators.

Wesley R. Irvin, 23, said the picture was that of the fare he took from the Union Bus Terminal to three hotels Thursday — a man who he said "seemed crazy for a woman." Police withheld the name of the 29-year-old suspect.

the powers approving the multilateral general declaration to be issued at the close of the session.

It was learned that the Chinese Communists, who originally asked that the United States be included in the list, were now not inclined to insist on this point.

The French advised U. S. Undersecretary of State Walter Bedell Smith of this development, but did not ask the U. S. to change its refusal to sign the agreement.

Smith told the conference Sunday that the United States would assist in reaching an armistice, but would not sign the final act. Instead, the United States will issue a unilateral declaration pledging support of the agreement under the terms of the United Nations charter.

THE ISSUE was one of several still unsettled which brought Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, Vietnamese Foreign Minister Pham Van Dong, and French Premier Pierre Mendes-France into urgent session today.

French sources were uncertain how much importance should be attached to the new Chinese demand. A French spokesman said he expected many other snags would appear during the day requiring feverish consultation.

The U. S. delegation was under the impression that the request for United States signature to the conference agreement came from the Russians.

"Of course they want us to sign a declaration," this source said. "They've wanted it all along."

The Red Chinese spokesman said: "I know nothing about it."

Premier Mendes-France has pledged to the French parliament that the will get a peace by midnight or quit.

The meeting at French delegation headquarters of Molotov, Eden, Mendes-France and Dong started shortly before noon. The participants, with Molotov at the head of the table, had bulky piles of conference documents before them as they sat down.

IN ADDITION to the question of signature, they faced differences over participation of Viet Nam, the date of elections and the question of Vietnamese forces in Laos.

One highly placed Western source, previously pessimistic about the chances for peace, said conclusion of a settlement was almost certain.

Dong, once the stiffest and most unyielding of the Red representatives here, told correspondents he was "absolutely sure" of an armistice.

It was expected that the full nine-party conference would remain in session today until a cease-fire was signed.

Reports from various conference sources indicated an armistice agreement was shaping up along these lines:

1. Viet Nam would be partitioned "temporarily" at approximately the 17th Parallel, with Ho Chi Minh and the Vietnamese taking over the North and the French-sponsored Viet Nam government of Emperor Bao Dai retaining the South.

2. The Vietnamese and the French would withdraw their troops from the other two Indochinese states of Laos and Cambodia, leaving the French-sponsored royal governments in control.

3. French military personnel would remain in Laos, Cambodia and South Viet Nam to help the three states develop defense forces.

4. Viet Nam would be reunited by supervised elections in both North and South, to be held at an agreed future date.

5. South Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia would be barred from participation in the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization which Western sources said the United States, Britain and France had agreed to form to oppose further Communist penetration in that area.

6. The armistice would be supervised by an international commission composed of Canada, India and Poland. A unanimous vote would be required for decisions on issues which might lead to a resumption of hostilities; otherwise only a majority vote would be required in the commission.

Monty Reported Set For EDC Post

BONN, Germany (AP) — An informed British source said here Britain has made an offer to appoint Field Marshal Lord Montgomery to help run the proposed European army.

Lord Montgomery is at present deputy to the supreme Allied commander in Europe, American Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther. The idea seems to be to demonstrate to the French that Britain, though unwilling to join the European Defense Community formally and merge its armed forces in the European army, intends to maintain "close association" with this organization.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS

CLARENCE E. GUTCHES
Clarence E. Gutches died in Columbus Monday at the age of 71. He was born in Circleville on March 20, 1883 the son of Harry M. and Mary Palm Gutches.

Gutches is survived by his wife, Jessie; a daughter, Mrs. A. A. Shoyer; two sons, Norman and Henry; a sister, Mrs. Genevieve Thompson; and two brothers, George and Louis. All are from Columbus.

Friends may call at the residence, 841 Dennison Ave., Columbus, on Wednesday, Services will be held at the home at 2:30 p. m. Thursday. Burial will be in Union Cemetery in Columbus.

Three Blazes Reported With None Serious

Three fires, none of which reportedly did serious damage, were answered by the Circleville Fire Department.

At 2:30 p. m. Monday, a fire was reported in ruins of the Maizo Mill on W. Main St. This is the site where a blaze earlier this year destroyed the mill. Monday's fire was confined to an old coal pile, the report said. According to the fire department, the blaze was started by sparks from a cutting torch and lasted several hours.

At 4 p. m. the firemen were called to the Circleville township line northeast of the city for a wheat field fire. However, firemen explain that the blaze actually started earlier and that they had three calls on it. They explain that in each case they were given a location north of the township line in an area for which the city fire department has no contract.

At noon Tuesday, a grass fire was reported on Johns St. This was quickly extinguished.

Committee Limits Retirement Pay

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Civil Service Committee today voted unanimously to deny government retirement pay to any federal employee or member of Congress convicted of lying about Communist associations or engaging in subversive activities.

It would strip retirement benefits from Alger Hiss or others who, like him, would be entitled to government annuities upon reaching retirement age.

The measure would not apply to retired government workers or congressmen already receiving retirement benefits.

Church Group Taps New York City

CLEVELAND (AP) — New York City has been recommended as the site for permanent headquarters of the National Council of Churches of Christ in the U.S.A.

The recommendation, made yesterday after a special meeting here on the National Council's headquarters committee, will be presented to the council's general board, which meets Sept. 14-15.

Formed in 1950, the National Council of Churches has 30 Protestant denominations, with about 145,000 individual congregations and 35 million members.

Mountain Town Fights After Flood

RICHWOOD, W. Va. (AP) — This mountain town of 5,300 was in a state of emergency today after a devastating flash flood which left at least one dead and caused damage estimated at $2 million.

The rushing waters of the Cherry River, which ran as deep as 12 feet in the streets of Richwood after a downpour the night before, were gone by yesterday afternoon. The flood drove 200 families from their homes in Richwood alone and 22 homes were destroyed. Scores of others were damaged.

Pipeline Company Making Refunds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Officials of Panhandle Eastern Pipeline Co. said yesterday the firm has made partial refunds of about $14 1/2 million to its 48 gas utility customers in six states.

Refunds are expected to total about $32 million to the states, including Ohio. Company officials said the refunds are part of the difference between proposed higher rates collected under bond and amounts determined by the Federal Power Commission.

who have been urging a "house-cleaning."

Together they form a majority of the seven-member group.

The New York Mirror said Cohn had resigned during a weekend meeting with McCarthy and Sens. Mundt (R-SD) and Dirksen (R-IL). The Chicago Tribune said that Mundt and Dirksen had suggested a resignation would "ease the situation."

The New York paper quoted as saying "three or four" other staff members will resign soon. It mentioned as possibilities Francis P. Carr, chief of staff, and investigators Donald A. Surine, James N. Juliana and Thomas Lavenia.

Surine and Lavenia have been named as the two members of McCarthy's staff to whom the Defense Department has refused clearances to handle secret documents.

The two newspapers which first reported that Cohn had resigned quoted him as saying he had made the decision reluctantly.

The Mirror quoted him: "I feel sorry about resigning, but this unending sniping at me isn't good for me or the committee."

The Tribune quoted Cohn: "It has been a bitter lesson to come to Washington and see a reputation gained at some effort torn to shreds merely because I was associated with Sen. McCarthy."

City Court Hits Drunk Drivers Hard With A Year Suspension

Three days of Municipal Court hearings provided a variety of accusations. Judge Sterling Lamb fined the following:

Fred Brungs, of Circleville; $200 and costs and six months in jail for assault and battery on his daughter with $100 and three months being suspended; arrested by Sgt. Turney Ross.

Max Noggle 33, of Circleville; $10 and costs for going through a stop sign at Mound and Washington Sts.; arrested by Ross.

Russell L. Greeno, 32, of Lancaster; $50 and costs for fictitious license plates; arrested by Ross.

Mel Cooper, of Columbus; $25 and costs for reckless operation; arrested by Deputy Sheriff Walter Richards.

Lawrence W. Self, 24, of Columbus; $25 and costs for reckless operation; arrested by State Patrolman Ray Hoyalman.

Fred R. Bandy, 19, of Ashville; $100 and costs, three days in jail and his license suspended for one year for drunk driving; arrested by Hoyalman.

George W. Cravens, 43, of Columbus; $100 and costs, three days in jail and his license suspended for six months for drunk driving; arrested by Hoyalman.

Anthony L. Leone, 38, of Portsmouth; $10 and costs for crossing a yellow line; arrested by Hoyalman.

Weather Sign Has 'Heat Stroke'

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Atop an office building here is an electric beacon which indicates the weather forecasts by flashing colored lights.

After many days of temperatures near 110 degrees, the beacon last night flipped its lid.

It began flashing in quick succession the signs for fair weather, cloudy skies, rain and snow.

Martin Kauffman, the man who sets the control dials, observed: "The thing must be suffering from heat stroke."

Heat Death Total Now Up To 259

CHICAGO (AP) — More blistering heat scorched the central United States today, boosting hog, poultry and crop losses and running the nation's heat deaths in two weeks to 259.

The temperature was 100 degrees or higher yesterday from Texas to South Dakota.

County fair advisers reported wholesale deaths of hogs and chickens in Central Illinois.

High temperatures included: Wichita, Kan., 107; Kansas City 109, St. Louis 102, Tulsa 105.

Municipal Economy Policies May Regulate Fountain In City Hall

If that drinking water stand in the lobby of city hall could feel the urge of municipal economy, its water would not be bubbling so merrily.

City Safety-Health Director Oscar Root and Police Chief Elmer Merriman disclosed Tuesday that City Council will probably be asked to change the water stand — which spouts water steadily 24 hours of the day and night — to an automatic drinking fountain. They pointed to the city's water bill for the last three months — about $230 — and said a new automatic fountain could be bought for about the same price.

This, they emphasized, would enable the city to save a large amount on its water bill, since the fountain would operate only at the touch of thirsty customers. The round-the-clock water stand in the lobby has drawn the attention of City Council before in general discussions on the water supply. But this appeared to be the first time anybody in authority wanted a change made.

Root indicated the drinking fountain proposal will be included in "a lot of business" when City Council meets Tuesday at 8 p. m.

Japanese Admits Being Cannibal

TOKYO (AP) — A factory worker told a grisly story yesterday of killing a woman, sawing up her body and eating part of it.

Kyodo news service said the testimony cleared up an eight-year-old mystery of a woman's bones buried in a Yokohama park.

Hisanaga Sugiyama, 34, told police he picked up a cabaret dancer, lured her home while his wife was out, killed her with a hatchet and sawed up her body.

He told of burying three main parts of the body, boiling what remained and telling his wife the human flesh was beef.

Coal Now Moving Into Kyger Plant

GALLIPOLIS (AP) — A truckload of coal was hauled into the Kyger Creek electric plant at Cheshire near here today, first of an approximate 6,250 loads to be used in the plant's stockpile area.

The first unit of the huge plant is expected to go into operation in 1955 and the first load of coal represents a one minute consumption of the plant at peak capacity.

The plant is being constructed by the Ohio Valley Electric Corp., which also is building a sister unit at Madison, Ind. Both plants will supply power for the Pike County atomic energy plant.

Heat Waves Fail To Cut Enthusiasm

Industry Confident Buildup Coming With Cool Weather Arrival

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Heat waves rolling across the nation find industry today in the middle of a summer lull—but with confidence teamed with caution to set the foundation for what could be a slow and sound build-up when cool weather comes.

Many factories are closed for summer vacations. Others are closing for annual inventories. Torrid weather keeps customers away from stores in many cities. The summer breather—or the search for some cool air to breathe—is evident in many lines of industry and trade.

But businessmen are taking it calmly. They expect a pickup in a month or so. And from now on they'll have the advantage of better looking statistics to bolster confidence.

So far this year the business statistics have been compared on a year-ago basis with record-setting periods in 1953. But the trade turn-down started a year ago, so that from now on any gains in industry and trade will look even better as they are compared with declining figures of last fall and winter.

Confidence teamed with caution has been the hall-mark of the year-long recession. It has distinguished it from other recessions.

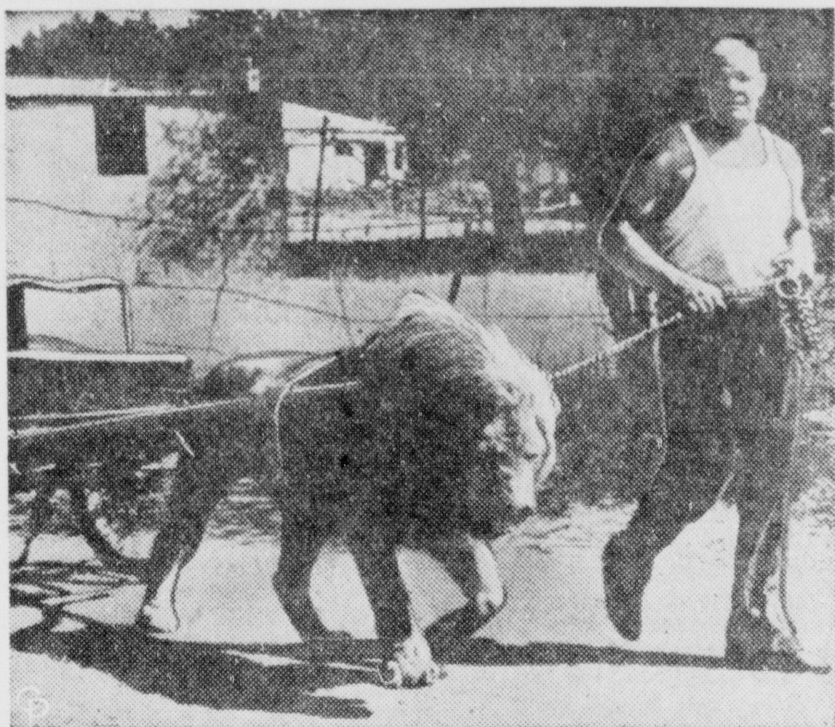

Confidence and caution might look like strange team-mates at first glance, but they work well together.

Business wariness kept inventories from going too high during the boom. Prudence caused businessmen to hold down inventories when trade slackened with the end of the Korean fighting.

But trust in the essential soundness of the nation's business and particularly in the general bright prospects for the future kept manufacturers from cutting back too sharply either on production or on plans for expansion and modernization to be ready for the pick-up so many of them expect.

Without this confidence—and without the caution that kept confidence from turning into runaway speculation—the adjustment of business to a peacetime economy could have been sharp. It could have developed its own chain-reaction and exploded into a really painful business set-back.

Prudence, however, tempered the boom in time and faith in the economy's future set management to finding cures for business

World Today

By James Marlow
Associated Press
News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—When he bats against Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) in the Senate league, Sen. Flanders (R-Vt) needs a team and a scorecard. There's no sign he has a team. And he's learning the score the hard way.

He has swung twice and missed. There's a good chance he'll strike out.

Persistence may be all the two senators have in common. They've used it on each other. The 73-year-old Vermont Republican persists in trying to get the Senate to rebuke McCarthy some way, somehow.

McCarthy persistently ignores Flanders, paying no more attention to him than he'd pay to a gnat. He dismisses Flanders, his most outspoken Senate critic, with the word "senile."

For months Flanders has been after McCarthy with Senate speeches and television statements that got headlines. For all their effect on the Senate it was like a batter warming up with popples.

But Flanders apparently felt ready for the big try. He asked the Senate to vote McCarthy out of his committee chairmanships, which would be a shattering rebuke.

Flanders had stepped into one of the most sensitive areas of the Senate. All its members yearn to be committee chairmen, a job that comes to them not by brilliance or ability but by seniority: by sticking around long enough.

Senators, being politicians, have a heightened sense of survival. Once they started something like this in motion—taking a senator's chairmanship away—it might happen to them someday.

Besides, there were other considerations.

In this election year 37 of the 96 Senate seats are at stake. McCarthy has a host of friends, well-wishers and admirers who might make their anger at a vote against him felt at the polls in November.

That goes for Democrats and Republicans alike.

Behind closed doors a group of Senate Republicans who plan their party's strategy in the upper chamber—the Senate's Republican Policy Committee—decided to tell Flanders about the facts of politics.

They voted against his resolution, in effect killing it before it had a chance to be debated on the Senate floor. He couldn't fight McCarthy and his own party's policy committee too. He dropped his resolution in a hurry.

The fact that he did, and that the committee vote against him was unanimous, was pretty thorough evidence all Flanders had from the start was a pious hope. He had no team. He had been swinging in the dark.

That he had taken a stand against McCarthy may have been personally satisfying to Flanders. It certainly got him a lot of publicity. But battling against McCarthy single-handed has been a useless occupation.

Undaunted, Flanders stepped up to the plate again. This time he asked the Senate simply to pass a vote of censure against McCarthy. The vote was supposed to be taken today.

Late yesterday Flanders decided to postpone his request for a censure vote from today until July 30. This was one of the reasons he gave.

That the "Republican leadership" expressed concern that throwing the censure question into the Senate now might snarl up its efforts to get through with its regular work by the end of this month.

But since Flanders is now going to wait until the end of the month to ask for censure of McCarthy, a milder rebuke than taking his chairmanships away, it stands a good chance of being trampled to death in the Senate's last-minute rush to go home.

Pants And Boots Trap Burglar

PETERSBURG, Va. (AP)—Police charged Noel B. Mills, a Ft. Lee soldier, with breaking and entering when they found:

1. Mills standing outside an animal hospital, minus his pants and boots.

2. The pants and boots inside the animal hospital.

Mills, facing a police court hearing today, told officers those were his pants and boots, all right, but that he couldn't remember going into the hospital.

'Lost' Armored Car Proven Safe

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Police "lost" a Philadelphia Transportation Co. armored car reportedly carrying $300,000 yesterday and there was some mad scurrying about the city for a brief spell before it was found again—safe in a company garage.

The car was involved in an accident with another vehicle and several persons suffering minor injuries were taken to nearby hospitals by police cars.

Before leaving the scene, the officers radioed for added help to guard the contents of the armored car. Meanwhile, a company tow truck arrived and towed the disabled car to a garage.

Television Squat Said Hard On Kids

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Mothers, don't let your children sit on the floor, legs crossed, while watching television. That was the warning issued before the National Chiropractic Assn. here by Dr. August L. Schultz of Mitchell, S. D.

The "television squat" will injure millions of the nation's children, he said, by putting a strain on their ankles and knees.

"Thus the ligaments cannot become strong and in later life will not be the binders and stabilizers of the joints that they were intended to be," he said.

Parents, too, have gone into a "TV slump," causing weakening of the sacroiliac, and both adults and children should sit straight up in their chairs, he said.

he was drunk but said he was on his way to church.

"At least," said the judge, "you were headed in the right direction. So drunk or sober, I'm going to suspend your sentence."

BEATING THE HEAT

TO PARAPHRASE Mr. Shakespeare, now is the summer of man's discontent. Modern facilities for air cooling are helpful, but those who find it necessary to be outdoors have really been taking a beating from the sun. Of course, they can console themselves with the thought that they are lucky they don't live in Kansas, where the temperature has zoomed far above the 100-degree mark, and it hasn't rained to speak of all year. It isn't cloudy all day in Kansas with a vengeance.

There are various steps the individual can take when the sun scorches the earth. They can head for spots such as Glacier National Park, where the temperature is ideal in the daytime and really cool at night. But if that is not immediately possible, health experts offer various suggestions to minimize inconveniences caused by the heat.

Among the suggestions is to drink plenty of water, but avoid ice-cold drinks. Others are to eat often but sparingly. Avoid undue activities, stay out of the sun as much as possible, and get plenty of rest. Temperatures should be watched more closely than usual. Hot weather promotes irritability and needless rows. Discussion of the weather should be frowned upon.

Children require extra care these days. Their diets should be watched, their bodies bathed frequently. They should be kept indoors during heat of the day.

That about winds up this dissertation on what to do about hot weather. Probably the best suggestion is to avoid discussing the weather. Or avoid reading discussions of what to do when it gets hot.

GOD HUNGER

BILLY GRAHAM, the American evangelist back from Europe, reports a "hunger for God" and that "the golden hour of the church is at hand." He heard in Europe that if the people of Russia had religious freedom "there would be the greatest spiritual revival in history in that country."

America, with its freedom, is certainly statistically impressive. Membership in all faiths of this country was 92 million in 1952, when the latest religious census was taken. It is an active membership, as record total donations of $1.3 billion a year indicate.

If one wants further proof, it is found in the fact that religious construction in the United States this year will be an estimated $500 million. The 252 religious sects of the nation already have 285,000 houses of worship, and these are being added to rapidly. The edifices are not only needed to house additional church-goers but to replace obsolescent structures.

So there is ample proof of the Billy Graham thesis of God hunger right here at home. Far from being a people almost

George E. Sokolsky's

These Days

I am often asked why it is that the people of Asia succumb so readily to the Marxists. To many Westerners, it is unbelievable that the peoples of the East, concerning whom Europeans often hold fantastic views, should accept the materialistic, atheistic notions of Marxism.

Before one attempts to analyze this inquiry, it is necessary to ask, what is meant by the people of any country. China, for instance, is a polyglot nation of many different races; Indochina is the same; so are India, Indonesia, Malaya, even the Philippines. In a word, no nation in the East of Asia, except Japan and Mongolia, consists of a racially homogeneous people. Often these various races dislike each other and fight each other whenever no strong power exists to prevent them from fighting each other.

Linguistically each country in the East of Asia is full of tongues. There are a few lingua franca such as Mandarin Chinese or Hindi or in some areas English or pidgin English, but except for the educated classes, most people speak local languages or local dialects. One of the principal struggles in every nationalist movement in each of these countries has been to find a language that could be used as a common denominator.

Of course, the written languages tend to be stabilized and are so in Chinese, in Sanskrit, in Arabic and in other literary languages. Those who can read have the advantage of the written word but in all these countries, illiteracy is very high. That does not mean that the illiterates do not know what is going on. In every tea house, in every place where people gather, there are those who lecture and speak and pass gossip. Nowadays, radio also has, to an extent, been established, under government auspices.

This lack of homogeneity is emphasized by localism—association with the smallest geographic of political unit. A man will speak of himself as belonging to Canton or Madras rather than to China or India.

Localism is so deeply ingrained that pride in a village is greater than pride in the nation. The nationalism of the past half century has been a struggle against localism with a varying degree of success, depending upon education. Although I cannot know what the Communists are doing about localism, my estimate would be that they are emphasizing it, as they have done in Russia, because on the principle of divide and conquer, it strengthens their power. They now use the term, self-determination, to describe this trend.

On one point, the whole of Asia, is united and this unity crosses all racial, linguistic and religious differences, and that is the universal antagonism to the "White Man" who came to their countries by the sea. He came as a conqueror to take their lands and to govern them. He exploited them economically, often to their advantage as well as his, but he introduced innovations which were resented.

Pollen Allergy Treated

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

THE hormones can be used to treat diseases of the whole body or of one local area with equally good results. One of the systemic diseases treated successfully by cortisone, ACTH or hydrocortisone is arthritis.

These hormones have also been used locally on skin diseases, in the form of an ointment. They have helped to relieve itching of the rectum, and some severe eye diseases. However, one of their greatest uses has been in alleviating the severe symptoms of certain allergies.

A Medical Headache

One of the great problems that faces the physician is the treatment of persons who are allergic or sensitive to pollens. Many people with a pollen allergy have severe bronchial asthma accompanying it. These hormones, given systemically, will help both these diseases.

However, treatment of this kind cannot be prolonged over too long a period, because of possible side effects and because it becomes quite expensive for the patient.

Allergy and Asthma

Recently, these drugs were used locally for treating pollen allergy which was accompanied by asthma. The drugs were given in the form of an aerosol, mixed with oxygen to form a fine spray, that works locally in the nose and bronchial tubes. Patients treated in this way usually tolerate the preparation well and show great improvement. Relief has lasted for days, even months in many people who received this treatment. Of course, it must be used only as the physician directs.

CHAPTER TWENTY-FIVE
WALT pulled up in front of Cynthia's apartment house. Dusk had settled, mantling the surroundings in a soft twilight glow. In a tree-top a whippoorwill began its plaintive call to its mate. One lone star sparkled high up in the heavens.

"I won't let you do it, Cynthia," Walt said.

"Do what?"
She supposed he wanted to start scolding her again, repeating that he was disappointed in her. Well, she was disappointed in him.

"Marry that Brandt fellow."
"Oh." She hadn't expected that. She had almost forgotten her spall subterfuge about a wedding and shopping for a trousseau. "How can you stop me?" she asked, nevertheless.

"I'll marry you myself," Dr. Sellars announced. He was as much surprised at such a statement as she was. And he was even more surprised as he found himself reaching toward his assistant nurse, pulling her to him, holding her tightly.

The kiss he gave her was fierce and brusque, as well as startling. It left Cynthia wide-eyed and unbelieving. She did not realize, just then, that it had not left her weak and shaken.

But he had kissed her. She had determined that he should, and he had.

He had not said that he loved her. But he had said he would marry her himself, rather than let her marry someone else.

"I never said I was going to marry anyone," Cynthia told him. "You certainly gave me that impression," Walt said. "But anyway, I'm glad it's settled."

"I'm not sure that it is. You'll have to give me a little more time, Walt."

"Oh, take all the time you want!" He made a wide-sweeping gesture. "We couldn't very well be married until we get the new plan for the clinic under way, anyway. It will be a big project. And it will require a lot of time and thought."

He did not yet know just how big it was going to be, Cynthia thought. She said, "You're right. The clinic must come first. Even before love or marriage." There was a tinge of irony in her voice, but she knew it would be lost on Walt. Still, she had not decided that it would always have to be this way—the clinic, his work, first? She must accept a second place, try to be satisfied with that.

"When are you coming back?" Walt asked.

"Oh, I suppose I might as well come back tomorrow."

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

the news

WASHINGTON—Sen. Joe McCarthy stands in no danger of federal indictment or prosecution, even if the current investigation of his finances reveals that he has underestimated on his income tax returns to Uncle Sam for the last three years.

He will simply be assessed for whatever alleged underpayment may be charged against him by T. Coleman Andrews, commissioner of Internal Revenue.

That was the practice followed by the Roosevelt and Truman Administrations with respect to such prominent Democratic politicians as Frank Hague, and the wealthy leaders of the New Orleans (Huey Long) and Chicago (Nash-Kelley) organizations.

SPECULATION — Possible prosecution of McCarthy has been a subject of lively and anxious speculation in Republican circles because of his attacks on the Administration.

Even if he should be adjudged delinquent in the outcome, the wise boys insist that the government would not dare to prosecute him for fear of martyring him and alienating his millions of admirers.

However, the unofficial decision to abide by the Roosevelt-Truman precedent, if the senator has miscalculated on his income tax returns, should end that kind of politico-legal speculation.

HARD TO DEFINE—Although Internal Revenue agents are scouring McCarthy's financial books, experts warn that it is extremely difficult to define "income" in a legal sense. The fact that an individual receives a large amount of money, over and above his known sources of revenue, does not mean that the surplus is taxable income.

The Hennings Committee criticized McCarthy because he would make no accounting to them of (1) huge contributions for his anti-Communist fund and, (2) profits on investments heavier than his known income seemed to warrant. His refusal to testify lies behind the Flanders-Lehman attempt to discipline him.

CONTRIBUTIONS—But the exports again point out that these contributions and investment profits, even though McCarthy keeps them in his personal bank accounts, do not necessarily represent income. He may plan to use them, sooner or later, to finance his investigation of Reds inside and outside the government.

Thus, if he continues his anti-Red campaign for several years, there can be no final, conclusive federal judgment or action against him until he winds up his heavily financed investigation of Communists, fellow-travelers and their sponsors. As the senator has said, that embraces an almost endless field.

DOUBTFUL—It is this generally unknown factor in the McCarthy drama which gives such great significance to the Flanders-Lehman effort to remove him as chairman of the Committee on government Operations. If they should succeed, although few believe that they will, he would become vulnerable and answerable to the Internal Revenue posse now on his heels.

With his show closed, he would have to give a final accounting of his personal and semi-official finances, including the contributions and profits on his interim investments.

DEMOCRATS — Democratic capture of the Senate in next fall's elections would have the same effect. McCarthy would then lose his chairmanship, as well as his role as a Red hunter. And, again, he would have to account for his handling of the large sums which have flowed his way from the so-called Texaco billionaires and more humble well-wishers.

The possible threat which a Democratic Senate presents explains why Republican leaders anticipate no trouble from McCarthy in the forthcoming campaign. It is to his interest to see that the Republicans enjoy a commanding majority. Otherwise, he will lose the limelight and must face a showdown on his financial affairs with Uncle Sam. He knows that.

Thirty-Eight County Women Attend Camp At Tar Hollow

Seven Counties Are Represented

Thirty-eight women from Pickaway County attended the sixteenth camp session at Tar Hollow State Camp, south of Adelphi. They exchanged experiences, ideas, and fellowship with one hundred and twenty-three women from six other counties including: Hocking, Vinton, Athens, Pike, and Fairfield.

This annual event is sponsored by the State Extension Service and the Home Demonstration Council. The theme used was "Broadening Our Views".

Mrs. Leora Sayre local home demonstration agent, was camp chairman. The program included nature hiking, vespers, campfire, Sunday worship service, flag ceremonies, outdoor and indoor recreation. For campers interested in crafts there were projects: Modern table lamps of wrought iron base, a terrarium (nature and bowl or dish garden), double woven gloves and plastic link belts.

Pickaway representatives, supervised by Mrs. James Fortney, Mrs. Don Roush and Mrs. R. E. Featheringham, were in charge of the campfire. Mrs. Featheringham of Ashville was the Great Chief. In her "authentic" tribal robe she presided from the council rock and directed performances of the seven tribes.

The "Pickavilles" whose big chief was Mrs. Stella Belt, presented a toy band, a war dance, and a vocal ukelele medley by Mrs. Pearl Zimmer.

Lucille Robinson Gehres of London was the speaker for a World Fellowship session. She showed colored slides and told of her four-month stay in Finland last year as an International Farm Youth Delegate.

Those registered from Pickaway County were: Mrs. Berman Wertman, Mrs. John Ankrum, Mrs. Judson Beougher, Mrs. Melvin Armstrong, Mrs. Ruth Stout, Mrs. Amy Wilson, Mrs. Frank Moats, Mrs. Russell Hedges, Mrs. Olive Quillen, Mrs. William Purdin, Mrs. Wendell Neff, Mrs. Kathleen Cooper, Mrs. Wilbur Neff, Mrs. Earl Boyer, Mrs. Elwood Morrison, Mrs. Everett Peters, Mrs. Ben Nothstine and Mrs. Charles Van Pelt.

Mrs. Clyde Michel, Mrs. Ethel McKinley, Mrs. Louis Hill, Mrs. Casey Neal, Mrs. Carl Krieger, Mrs. Leslie Dearth, Mrs. Ralph Haughn, Mrs. Emma McGhee, Mrs. Nola D. Seum, Mrs. L. A. Best, Mrs. Clarence Maxson, Mrs. C. N. Niles, Mrs. Leonard Morgan, Mrs. Galen Mowery, Mrs. Belt, Mrs. Featheringham, Mrs. Fortney Mrs. Roush, Mrs. Zimmer, and Mrs. Sayre.

Representatives elected to help plan next year's camp were Mrs. Hill and Mrs. Maxson.

Mary Stuckey Reunion Held At Cross Mound

The descendants of Mary Alma Stuckey met at Cross Mound Park near Marietta for their twentieth reunion. Nearly fifty persons were in attendance.

Following a basket dinner at the noon hour, the president, Sterling Poling, presided at a short business meeting during which officers were elected for the 1955 reunion. Robert Poling was named president and Mrs. Owen Fullen was named secretary-treasurer to succeed Miss Louise Stuckey.

Those present for the day were Mr. and Mrs. Owen Fullen and daughter, Carlene, of Richmond, Ind.; Mrs. James Taylor and daughter, Kaye and son, Dick of Xenia; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Stir and children, Donivan and Debra of Canal Winchester.

Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Poling and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Poling and children, Bonnie and Michael, of Lancaster; Mrs. Mary Leach, John Edward and Henry Leach of Logan; Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Ward and son, Bobby of Ashville; Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Martin and Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Martin and sons, Terry and Randall.

Mr. and Mrs. Wenrich Stuckey, Miss Louise Stuckey, Carl Edwin Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Porter Martin, Ernest and Mae Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Martin, William Barthelmas, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Shelton and daughter, Billie Ann, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Stuckey and Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Poling and children, Lorna and Drexel.

Odds And Ends From Almanac And All Over Prove Interesting

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (U-P)—Leaves from an oddity almanac:
It is only people who are mentally half-dead themselves who complain, "opportunity is dead." Opportunity is timeless.
Take the case of Mrs. Annabelle McIntyre of Ligonier, Ind., who decided at 82 she ought to have a new hobby, and learned to make braided rugs. Ten years and 200 handmade rugs later she has turned her hobby into a tidy business, and at 92 she does her own shopping, cooking and housework, and is sturdily determined to go on doing these things "as long as I live." How many teenage girls are that independent?
Almanac Conservation Department: What smokers do to themselves is one thing, but what they do to the forests remains a national disgrace. Forest fires last year dropped to a record low but still 154,160 forest fires burned over 9 million acres, and more than one out of every seven fires were started by careless smokers.
Bet You Didn't Know That: One way to lose weight is to go to the Equator, because of slightly lowered gravity a man who weighs 190 pounds at the north pole will be a pound lighter at the equator. The British have discovered a "paint of death" that will rid ships of cockroaches for as long as two years. Many schizophrenic (split personality) children often show a preference for toys that can be rotated or spun. But if that were the only test of schizophrenia, every kid in town would have a split personality.
Time-Marches-On Dept: "nothing ever changes," people say in a world that is changing as swiftly as they are. But look back just 20 years at a few things the world lacked that are now commonplace: Jet planes, nylon, television, penicillin. Our idea of a real old-timer is a guy who can remember when aspirin was a wonder drug.
Almanac Editorial: We have been informed by what we take to be a reliable source that the Sahara desert is creeping northward at the rate of 20 miles a year.
Or maybe it is 20 miles every century (we have mislaid the clipping).
In any event we demand to know what Congress intends to do about this creeping African menace. Are our statesmen asleep at the switch?
It's A Woman's - World Dept: The effort to relieve ladies from WOMEN spectators at the murder trial of Dr. Kenneth Small, in Allegan, Mich., were so intent on the proceedings that they refused to leave their seats at lunch time. Fortunate ones brought something to eat, and the others went without food to insure their seats. When Dr. Small was freed in the love-triangle slaying, some of the spectators screamed and applauded.

ed in this category—is the unifying force in Asia which the Communists are using to their advantage. No western country has, as yet, devised any propaganda to offset this. To it the Communists have given the word, "Liberation," and nothing that has thus far been done by the West has lessened the unifying force of this word.

Father Refuses Son's Custody

BALTIMORE (U-P)—Irvin J. Adams, 16, was brought before Magistrate Howard L. Aaron yesterday and charged with burglary of $6.50, a novelty machine and a clock-radio from a grocery store.
The magistrate offered to release the boy in the custody of his father. But the father, Thomas E. Adams, refused custody and said the boy belonged in jail.
"I can't handle him," Adams told the magistrate. "The only time I ever see him is on Friday night when he comes in for his allowance."
The youth then was sent to city jail when he could not furnish bail of $1,000.

had worked on the building since it was begun last February.

Monkey Business Bothers Housewife

BUFFALO, N.Y. (U-P)—When a small Rhesus monkey swung through a window into Mrs. Ralph Rothang's fourth-floor apartment, housework went out.
In rushed a swarm of would-be monkey catchers—a net-swishing Humane Society agent, the veteriarian from whose hospital the animal escaped, children brandishing bananas, and reporters and photographers.

Twenty minutes later the vet, seizing one of the woman's blankets, pounced on the monkey, and Mrs. Rothang returned to her housework — much more housework.

It's good to stand
On Your Own Two Feet...

That's exactly what the railroads do.
They buy their own rights of way, build and maintain their own tracks and stations, their own signaling systems and safety devices, and pay big taxes on these facilities. They do this from their own pocket, without receiving one cent from public funds.
Naturally, they would like to see their competitors do the same. But it doesn't work that way.
The three other forms of commercial transportation use highways, airports, waterways, signaling systems and safety devices which are built and maintained by federal, state and municipal funds — with your taxpayer dollars. Strangely enough, even the railroads find a considerable part of their tax dollars going into funds to help build and support facilities their competitors use! And for a profit.
If the other carriers stood on their own two feet, all four could compete on an equal basis, which is all the railroads ask. And the public would be served much better, as it always is in open competition.
It's time the highway, air and waterway carriers paid their own way, all the way.
It's time for them to take the same stand the railroads take — on their own two feet!

To build and maintain highways used by big trucks cost $5 billion per year. The private motorist, farmer and light truck operator pay the biggest part of the bill.

Through 1953, the Federal government alone had spent more than $2 billion in tax dollars on construction of civil airports and airways.

At the end of last year, 4.5 billion taxpayer dollars had been spent by Uncle Sam for river and harbor transportation facilities.

But the railroads operate year in and year out and never receive one cent of subsidy.

Lopez Demanding 'Sweep' Of Yanks

WASHINGTON — Al Lopez, whose Cleveland Indians are hanging stubbornly to a half-game lead in the American League, said today he'll settle for nothing less than a sweep of the "crucial" series this weekend with the New York Yankees.

"Who wants two out of three?" Lopez said in the manner of a man who would rejoice with two out of three. "You've got to go for them all in this league. They've been pretty hot, but they're bound to cool off sooner or later."

Foreman Homer Gives Ashville Edge Over GE

Don Foreman, blond receiver for the Ashville Irwins, blasted a guided-missile home run over the center-fielder's head at Community Park in Ashville Monday night, giving the Barnetson-Fullen machine a 3-1 decision over General Electric in the "kid baseball" County League. As a result, Ashville becomes officially the first round champs.

Foreman's four-bagger, after Lon Cromley had walked to open the home half of the fifth, broke up a tight mound duel between GE's Jim McConnell and Ashville's Jerry Riegel. Rated next in power for the circuit, both of Circleville's entries in the county loop have now lost to the Irwins.

Wilson Fords will make their second attempt to spoil Ashville's unbeaten record next Thursday night at Ted Lewis Park, the two clubs meeting in the league's second round.

With the exception of Foreman's game-busting homer, McConnell had a definite edge in the mound tussle over the ace slinger who has made Ashville too tough to crack so far in the county circuit race.

McCONNELL HELD the Irwins to two lone hits in addition to the big one, both by Hutchison and one of them a fuzzy infield scratch in the second when Ashville tallied the evening's first run. In the six frames he faced the hitters, the GE slinger fanned 11 and issued only one walk—to Cromley before Foreman cut loose.

Riegel was reached for four safeties, fanned 12—three in the losers' half of the seventh—and yielded two walks. McConnell also did right for his own cause, getting a double for one of the four GE hits and scoring the lone run for the losers' in the third stanza on a fielder's choice. Hosler, Bennington and Bob Callihan all had singles.

After Hutchison got his scratch bingle in the second and eventually scored via a stolen base, fielder's choice and wild pitch, GE made it one-all in the third. McConnell op-

Billy Graham Disgusted At Loss To Dane

NEW YORK (AP)—"When you get licked by a potato like that, it makes you think about quitting."

Billy Graham, admitting he will be 33 at his next birthday in September, was a disgusted man as he sat in his ring togs last night after losing a split decision to Danish Christensen.

"When a guy like this hits you, it makes you wonder what's wrong," he said. "You ask yourself, 'Why don't you counter?' Right now I feel let down. I thought I won the fight 6-4 but I am disgusted."

"I'll know in a few days about fighting again. After I sit down and have a talk with Irving (Irving Cohen, his manager)."

Graham looked rusty in his second fight in seven months. He was slow and missed often against the faster Dane, who kept pouring leather at him through the 10 rounds in Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway. Christensen showed no solid power with his flicking punches, often resorting to a backhand right, but he was too quick and too busy for the New Yorker, who came within a whisker of winning Kid Gavilan's welter title in 1951.

Referee Teddy Martin voted for Christensen 5-4-1 and Judge Dave Stewart, 6-3-1. Judge Bert Grant scored it for Graham 5-4-1.

ened the frame with his double and Callihan bunted him to third. The pitcher came in while Hutchison was knocking down Hosler's scorcher and throwing him out at first in one of the evening's fielding highlights.

That ended the scoring until Foreman laid it on. Stillman Morrison's boys had two on and only one down in the first inning, but failed to register.

Starting batting orders: Ashville—Fullen, ss; Neal, lf; Riegel, p; Hutchison, 3b; Bartholomew, cf; Cromley, lf; Foreman, c; Hoover, rf; Shillingburg, 2b. Cline went in for Hoover.

General Electric—Callihan lf; Hosler, 3b; Bennington, ss; Beck, cf; Hill, 1b; Eschelman, c; Frazier, 2b; Rog McConnell, rf; Jim McConnell, p.

Girls Tennis Meet In Quarter-Finals

DAYTON (AP)—The Western Girls Tennis Tournament moves into quarter-final play today with defending champion June Stach, 17, of Hamtramck, Mich., paired against Suzie Sumbrink, Dayton's junior champion.

Second-seeded Pat Schaffer, 16, of St. Petersburg, Fla., faces Joyce Pniwski, another Hamtramck athlete.

Youngest lass in the 18-year-old division is Lorraine Williams, 15, of Chicago. The 15-year-old national tennis champion chose the bigger girls as competitors and whipped two of them in yesterday's opening matches.

Redleg Hurler Whitewashes Leading Giants

CINCINNATI (AP)—Harry Perkowski came through with his second win of the season last night, a three-hit whitewash of the league leading New York Giants.

But it took 12 innings and a home run by catcher Hobie Landrith to give the Cincinnati Reds their 1-0 triumph.

Perkowski, tired but grinning, was asked if he thought he or Landrith was happier to see the end of the 3 hour and 16 minute pitching duel witnessed by 13,477 fans at Crosley Field.

"I don't know who is happier," he replied, "but I'm glad it's over. It was a great one to win."

He allowed the Giants only three hits, including Whitey Lockman's and Monte Irvin's doubles. Irvin was picked off second base in the seventh inning when Lockman hit a grounder. Alvin Dark beat out a single in the 11th.

Two of the five walks were given to rival pitcher Don Liddle, but the second time Liddle walked he was on the front end of a doubleplay, the 123rd of the season for the Reds. Cincinnati leads the majors in the DP department.

The victory put the Reds back into third place.

Perkowski has lost seven decisions this season, three of them to New York. One was a real heart-breaker. Bobby Hofman hit a two-out homer in the ninth to give the Giants a 2-1 victory.

Fleet Song Grabs Laurels In Hilliards Feature Trot

COLUMBUS (AP)—Fleet Song, a bay filly, won the first mile event of the featured 3-year-old trot at Hilliards Raceway last night. She collected a major share of the $3,000 purse, one of the track's largest.

She is owned by Wayne Galvin of Lima and Dr. H. K. Bailey of Wilmington. She finished in 2:10 3-5.

In the second part of the feature trot, Fleet Song was nosed out by Hoot Suite, driven by the track's leading sulky driver, Bill Current of Wilmington. Hoot Suite was clocked in 2:07 2-5 in the second dash of the 3-year-old trot.

Fleet Song, however, earned the trophy, finishing 2-1 in the standings. She was handled by Denny Moore who brought the filly here after a campaign in New York.

Faulty Finger Still Helping Indians Win

BOSTON (AP)—An injured third baseman and a pinch hitter who has been to bat only 40 times this season kept Cleveland half a game ahead yesterday in the tough-and-gone American League race.

Al Rosen, dangerous despite a broken right index finger that pains him every time his bat hits a ball, drove in three of the Tribe's four runs against Washington, and Dale Mitchell, benched this year to make room for rookie outfielder Al Smith, singled in the other run in the seventh for a 4-3 victory.

That preserved, for the eighth straight day, the half-game bulge the Indians have been nursing over the New York Yankees.

The finger he broke May 25 may have all but ruined Rosen's chances for the league home run and batting average leaderships, but it has not kept him from driving in runs.

During the last 12 games, he has driven in 12 scores and for the season he now has a total of 71, just one less than Chicago's Minnie Miñoso, who leads the league.

Rosen doubled in two runs in the first, after Bob Avila reached first on Jerry Snyder's error and Larry Doby singled.

His single in the fifth scored Avila, who singled, stole second and reached third on a wild pitch.

The payoff, however, was Mitchell's single after Washington had tied the score in the sixth.

Pollution Fouls Licking River

NEWARK (AP)—Pollution coursing down the Licking River has killed thousands of fish, a state wildlife inspector reports.

The inspector, Wallace Laird, said the pollution which began Saturday has been traced to a Newark industrial plant on Racoon Creek, a Licking tributary.

Laird said hundreds of fish were swimming ahead of the poisonous wastes which moved as far as Toboso, 14 miles downstream.

The winners themselves were limited to only four hits. All the scoring came in the sixth.

Ashville Beats Columbus Nine By 12 To 4

Ashville's Irwin Insurance nine took over second place in the Columbus Sunday P. M. League by defeating Upper Arlington 12 to 4. These two had been tied for the second spot. Harley-Davidson leads the league with a 6-1 mark.

Ronnie Wilson lead the Ashville attack with four-for-four which included two long three-baggers. Roger Bennington got two-for-three. The game was called because of rain.

Sunday, Irwin's play host to Hodgson's Drugs of Columbus. The last time these two faced each other the game went into extra innings. The Irwin nine trailed by four runs going into the ninth. They scored five times to go ahead. But Hodgson tied it up. Irwin's finally won the contest in the tenth.

Line score follows:
Irwin's ... 200 131 5 —12 12 4
Arlington ... 001 010 2 —4 8 6
Hit: Easterday.

Ammer Attends Five-Day Prosecutor Session In New York

Many Experts From Various Fields Lecture

Tour Of New York City Police Lab One Of The Highlights

Pickaway County Prosecutor William Ammer recently returned from a five-day program for public prosecutors in New York City sponsored by the National Association of County and Prosecuting Attorneys. The program was presented by the Practising Law Institute.

The purpose of the sessions, of which this was one of five week-long courses, is to afford prosecutors an opportunity to increase their professional skills, according to Ammer. Each session was set to emphasize what to do and how best to do it in typical situations facing prosecutors today.

About 150 prosecutors and their assistants attended the July 12-16 session, Ammer remarked. He said this represented 37 states throughout the country.

Expert in various fields were discussion leaders. Top speakers included leading trial attorneys, members of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, district attorneys, doctors and leading jurists of the New York City courts, Ammer explained. Included in the sessions was a tour of the New York City police laboratory.

AMMER said he attended nine separate discussions. They are listed below:

1. Procedure after arrest and arraignment — principal speaker was Irving Mendelson, former assistant district attorney for the county of New York. He discussed the making out of documents, the subject of bail and also waivers.

2. Medical tests — speakers were: Dr. Milton Helfern, chief medical examiner for New York City and a professor; and Dr. Leon Sussman from the U. S. Naval Hospital at St. Albans, N. Y. They headed discussions concerning blood stains and other applications of blood; intoxication; autopsy interpretations; and determining the time and cause of death.

3. Criminal investigation — main speaker was Julius Helfand, assistant district attorney for Kings County. He spoke of interrogating suspects and witnesses; confessions; searches and seizures; and coordinating the work of police, accountants, medical examiners or coroners and the prosecutor.

4. Preparing for trial — John E. Cone Jr., Court of Special Sessions Justice of Kings County, was the speaker. He discussed obtaining information on alibi defenses plus assembling and analyzing evidence.

5. FBI FACILITIES — speaker was James J. Kelly, special FBI agent in charge of the New York Office. He told of the FBI lab; the identification division; scientific methods of crime detection; and investigative techniques and how they may be used by local prosecutors.

6. Police methods; laboratory tests; and a tour of the New York City police department laboratory — conducted by Lt. Howard Finney, commanding officer of the laboratory. He talked of such items as ballistics; lie detector; writing identification and fingerprints.

7. Handling the juvenile and adolescent offender — discussion led by Sylvia J. Singer, assistant district attorney in charge of youth cases in New York City. She noted the functions and techniques in dealing with the juvenile offender.

8. Organization and functioning of prosecutor's office — head of this discussion was New York County chief assistant District Attorney Joseph A. Sarafite. He spoke of dockets, records, budgets, procedures and relations with other law enforcement agencies.

9. Psychopathic offenders — conducted by Dr. Perry M. Lichtenstein, medical assistant to the New York County District Attorney in charge of psychiatry and legal medicine; and Elmer W. Reeves, deputy chief probation officer of court of general sessions, New York County. They talked of the mental angle; insanity; treatment and case studies.

THE IDEA of the sessions, according to Ammer, provides the opportunity for free exchange of ideas and experiences. The programs presented are the outgrowth of 20 years' experience, he said.

Roosters Become Stool Pigeons

LOS ANGELES (AP)—They were roosters, not stool pigeons, but they double-crossed their owner.

Mrs. Ednah Allbright, 39, had just testified yesterday that the roosters were trained to crow only on cue, for television and movie jobs. Just then the three roosters in the corridor started crowing.

The jury in Municipal Court convicted her of maintaining a public nuisance at her home in suburban Van Nuys.

Judge Outlaws Pinball Machines

COLUMBUS (AP)—A Franklin County common pleas judge, in a 16-page ruling, has held a city ordinance outlawing pinball machines convertible to gambling devices is valid.

The ruling, given by Judge Joseph M. Harter, dissolved a temporary restraining order against the city.

Observers said the court decision makes illegal virtually every pinball machine in the city. "The pinball people are out of business," commented City Atty. Chalmers P. Wylie.

Ex-Liquor Aide Sought In Probe

COLUMBUS (AP)—State liquor department officials want to question a Canton-Portsmouth district liquor supervisor who left the job before his "leave" was granted.

Enforcement Chief Edward J. Allen said he did not know where John L. Koevar was now but wants to question him about reported "shakedowns" of liquor permit holders while Koevar was an agent in the Toledo area before assigned the Canton-Portsmouth District.

Westinghouse Work Resumed

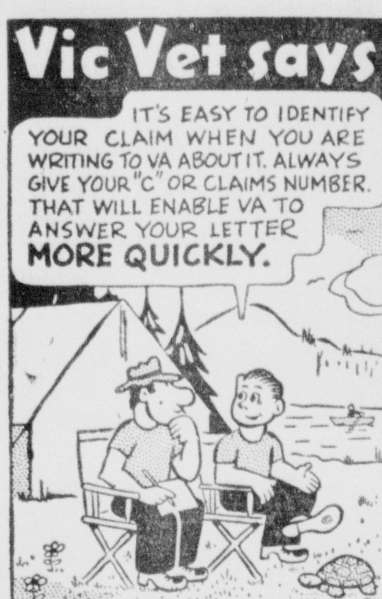

COLUMBUS (AP)—Normal cooperation and effort were reported at the Westinghouse appliance plant today after workers yesterday resumed regular shifts.

Three times last week the plant's 1,000 production workers were sent home for what the company termed "slowdowns." Employees said there was no slowdown and that quotas were too high. Contract negotiations here on supplements to national Westinghouse contracts are expected to be resumed today.
